

April 2013

Entre Voczes is a student-run trilingual literary magazine (in Spanish, Portuguese, and English) housed at York University, that publishes original works of poetry, prose, and visual art inspired by the Hispanophone and Lusophone worlds.

Launch of our 6th Edition: Poetry, tweeting, chocolate kisses, scrolls and so much more!

Entre Voczes celebrated the launch of its 6th edition on Wednesday March 27th. It was a night full of surprises.

The night started off with the recitation of poetry by Carlos Franco and Jessica Marino. Over 250 audience members were then treated to performances by Kwesi, Antonio Bembridge, Jonelle Sills, Nuno Cristo, and Omar Sanchez. The night was capped off by a performance by Sinhá Bahia Capoeira Canada.

Entre Voczes' executive panel and Faculty Advisors would like to thank all of the authors, artists, performers, volunteers, sponsors, and community groups. We would also like to thank all those who attended the evening. We look forward to seeing you all at next year's launch, tentatively set for March 19th 2014!

Building skills and community through tutoring and conversation hours

Thanks to the great effort of this year's Tutoring Coordinator, Jessica Marino, and all of our student volunteers, this academic year's tutoring sessions were an outstanding success. This year's tutors demonstrated tremendous dedication to ensuring that students were not only given the help they needed, but also created a safe space in which they were able to apply that which they learned in class, and further enhance their learning through our conversation hours. Tutoring will return this summer, and the schedule will be announced the last week of April.

Entre Voczes on the Radio

Entre Voczes and several of its members were featured on both Radio Voces Latinas CHHA 1610 AM and CHRY 105.5 FM. Our members spoke about the history of Entre Voczes, the origin of its name, and of course, invited members of the community to join them at the launch. Entre Voczes would like to thank both Radio Voces Latinas and CHRY for the opportunity to connect with the community.
